University of Massachusetts Lowell

Volume 2

Lowell, MA.

DEDICATION

This Yearbook is dedicated to Associate Vice Chancellor Leo F. King for twenty-five years of service to the University. Commonly referred to by all as Dean King, he has been a driving force for the students of this University for over two decades. He has helped students solve a whole slew of different problems and dilemmas. Whether it be financial difficulties, personal problems, academic concerns or just routine questions, Dean King has always been willing to lend a helping hand.

Assistant Dean of Students at Lowell Technological Institute. A short year later, Dean King became the Dean of Students. Prior to coming to the University, Dean King worked as the Assistant Superintendent of the Chelmsford High School.

When Dean King entered the University, things were much different than they are today. For example, picture North Campus with only six academic buildings; Southwick, Pasteur, Calmouth, Kitson, Ball, and the Engineering Building. The alumni building was functioning as the library, and where Lydon Library stands there was only a parking lot. Smith and Eames were both all male residence halls, because women, at that time were not allowed into the residence halls for any reason, let alone live on campus. Residential North was comprised of two buildings, Bourgeois and Leitch Hall, which had only been opened to students for one month when Dean King arrived on campus.

South campus, was a separate college called Lowell State, when Leo F. King arrived. It consisted of only three academic buildings, Coburn, Dugan, and Mahoney Halls.

Dean King was a part of much of the history of this University. He was here for the opening of Olsen, Olney, Pinanski, Costello, Lydon, O'Leary, Durgin, Weed, and the South Campus Dining Hall. He was here for the opening of Concordia, McGauvern, Fox, Neehy, and Donahue. He was here for the birth of a new university when Lowell State and Lowell Technological Institute merged in 1975 to form a comprehensive university whose resources far surpassed those of its predecessors. And, finally he was here when the University of Lowell became part of a five campus UMass system in September, 1991. Dean King has helped shape the University throughout the years. He has had a major impact on many people's lives as well as the University community.

University throughout the years. He has had a major impact on many people's lives as well as the University community.

Dean King's accomplishments for students here at the University are nothing less than remarkable. He has long been known as a student advocate, and often challenged the administration he was a part of in order to allow the students to voice their concerns and better the university community.

Above all else, what stands out in people's minds when you mention Dean King's name is his personal investment in the lives of so many students. It has been said that "the capacity to care is the thing which gives life its greatest significance." Therefore, we dedicate this '93 Sojourn to Dean Leo F. King for caring, for being there when it counted, for so many students throughout the years - for being Dean, disciplinarian, mentor, advisor, confidant, surrogate father, for being all these things but most especially for being a friend.

Thanks for everything Dean, from the bottom of our hearts.

The one thing that we all have experienced together through our college years is growth. Freshman through senior year, we have grown emotionally, intellectually, and spiritually. The "growing tree" personifies this change in all of us; from the insecure, unaware first year college student to the confident and educated individuals we have become today. Through the years we were faced with new challenges, weathered many setbacks, endured many hardships but we still kept reaching for our goals.

It is this commitment to self betterment that has helped us to achieve many of the tasks that we have set out to do. However, we are not done yet. Our time for growth is not finished yet. It is now our turn to take the knowledge, experience, nourishment, and the education that we have gained here and share it with the rest of the world. It is our turn to branch out and reach higher. Reach out for your happiness, find it, and carry it with you forever.

Always remember the growth experience gained here at the University of Massachusetts at Lowell and remember especially those who have grown with you!

Best of Luck,

Cheryl Ricardo

When thinking back on your college educational experiences remember the lessons you have learned while growing here at UMass Lowell. Although sometimes it is difficult to ascertain the impact we have in the lives of all those around us, we must never neglect to realize that each and every one of us has the ability to make a difference.

There was a young man walking down a deserted beach just before dawn. In the distance he saw a frail old man. As he approached the old man, he saw him picking up stranded starfish and throwing them back into the sea. The young man gazed in wonder as the old man again and again threw the small starfish from the sand to the water. He asked him, "Why do you spend so much energy doing what seems to be a waste of time?" The old man explained that the stranded starfish would die if left in the morning sun. "But there must be thousands of beaches and millions of starfish," exclaimed the young man, "How can your effort make any difference?" The old man looked down at the small starfish in his hand as he threw it to safety in the sea and said....."It makes a difference to this one."

After our four years here at the University we are walking away with much more than a degree in our chosen field of study. We are leaving with an experience of a lifetime. We have grown in many ways through the last four or five years and through it all we have had each other to lean on. We must always remember the friends we have made and what an integral part they have played in our lives.

This page is an attempt to capture the essence of those friendships.

I would like to thank the fraternities and sororities who responded to the letter in the Connector in which I asked the entire student body for candid photographs. These students were among the very few who sent in pictures to help us out. These organizations are not affiliated with the University except for the fact that all of their members are students.

With each day that passes, the bond between each of us grows stronger. We should always keep in mind that not only are we brothers and sisters but we are also friends. We are friends who stick by each other through the good and the bad. Best of luck to the brothers and sisters of each house who are graduating.

Sincerely,
Kelly Duggan

The Child Inside

*Take a friend hand in hand
Run to play in a far off land.
Smile happy through all your days*

*Never to go your separate ways.
Hold them close to your heart
Hope and pray you'll never part.
Give yourself and all you are
Let them know you won't be far.
Grow with them and see them through
Then they'll know their friends are true.*

*Never lose that child inside
From your past never hide.
Chase a ball, skim a stone
Search for that place unknown.
Tell a secret, dream a dream
Fly away to that place unseen.
Run and fall and skin your knee
Rise and yell, "You can't hurt me!"*

*Save your innocence for as long as you can
It's to soon for that boy inside to be a man.*

Life at the University would be monotonous if we didn't take the time out to relieve the pressures of everyday life. Here, a few students let loose some of their stress by engaging in their favorite activity.

Not everyone at UMass Lowell went through their college years alone. Many had that someone special who helped them share in their joys as well as their sorrows. Let us not forget these people who helped our transition through college be the very best it could.

Life at U Mass Lowell.
There is never a dull moment!! Here are some classic poses that speak for themselves. Without a sense of humor, our experience here at the university would have been a long haul. Thanks to all of those people who made us smile and laugh regardless of all life's stresses and problems. Always remember...He who laughs, lasts.

Every now and then when we could find nothing else that could possibly distract us, we found time for two vitally important tasks. These two tasks being, of course, studying and attending classes. I would venture to say that there are very few students that have never missed a class during their four, five, or six years at UMass Lowell. It should be noted, however, (for the benefit of the new incoming students) that the amount of years it takes the average student to graduate is quite often linked to how often the student studies and attends class. You may think this to be an obvious point, but ask around, see how many of your friends actually left this university after only four years of school. Well, here are some role models for us all to follow. This page serves as a reminder to all of us of the investment we made to UMass Lowell. It should remind us of all the long hours of studying, time, and effort we all had to put forth to obtain our degrees. Hopefully, we can all look back on our experience in college with a smile, and say; "It was the best investment I ever made."

Current Events

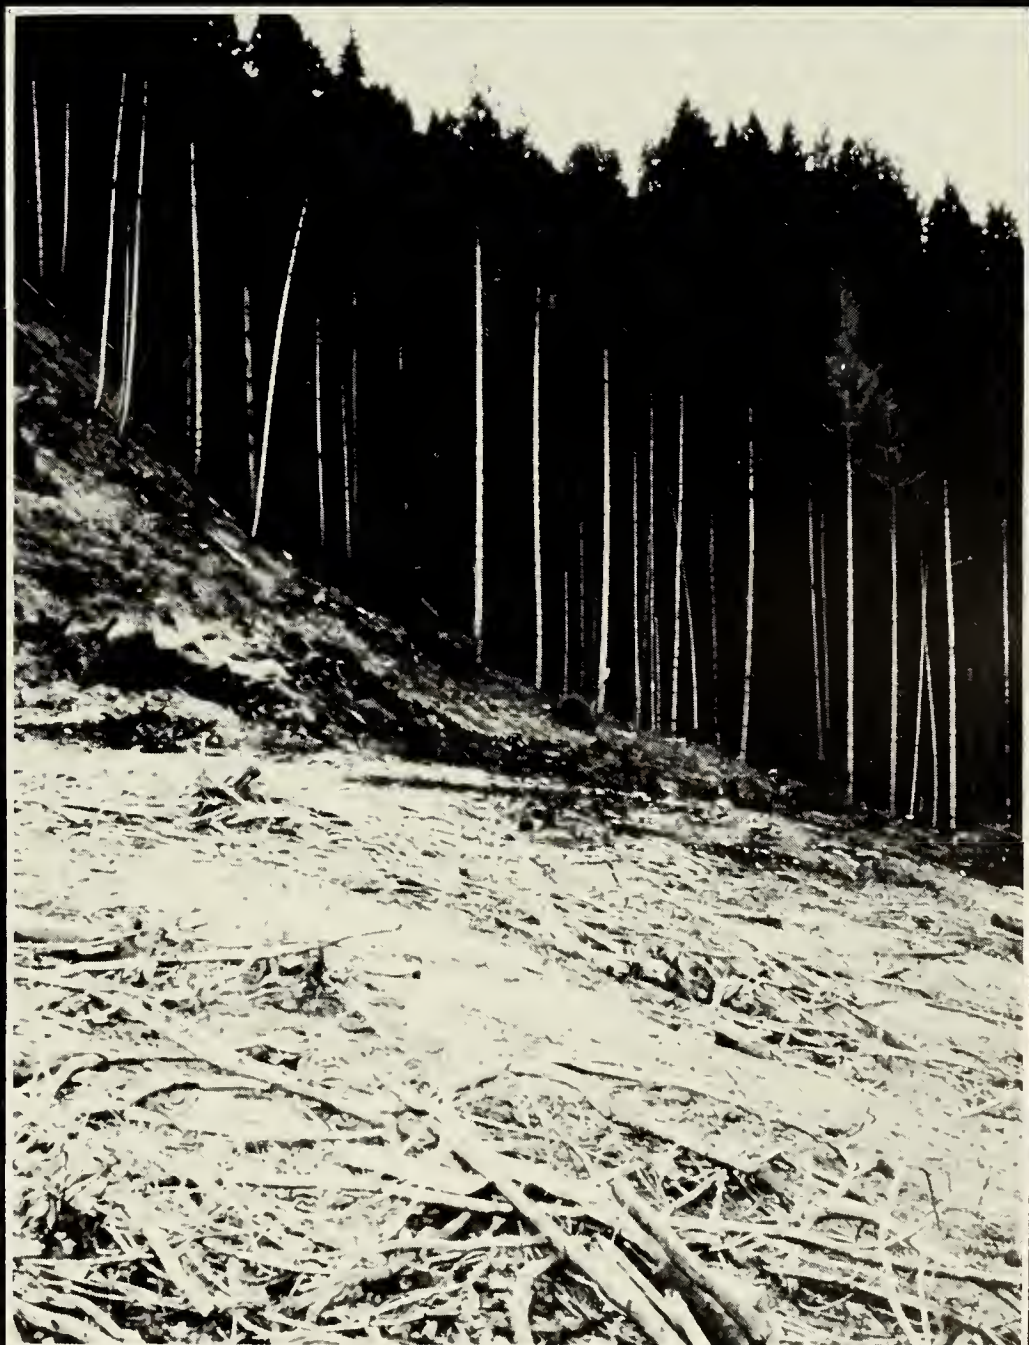

The environment took more abuse in 1992-1993. Several oil spills, rising industrial pollution, and thousands and thousands of acres of forest were destroyed. Several natural disasters also struck, most notably Hurricane Andrew and Iniki.

Hurricane Andrew (previous page) carved its way through the Bahamas and hit south Florida with a powerhouse intensity before moving into Louisiana. The hurricane's 54-hour rampage, the most expensive natural disaster ever to hit this country, left an estimated 180,000 homeless in Florida alone. It was a harrowing time, as tens of thousands of people tried to evacuate the Miami area and thousands more rode the storm out in shelters and boarded-up homes. At least 51 deaths were directly attributed to the storm - 41 in Florida and 10 in Louisiana. The amount of damage was estimated at $20 billion in Florida and nearly $2 billion in Louisiana. Maybe this was the Earth's way of reciprocating mankind's efforts.

On a more positive note, the Environmental Protection Agency issued rules aimed at curbing industrial air pollution (lower left photo). The new rules outlined when businesses must obtain state pollution control permits under the Clean Air Act. Environmental groups, such as the Sierra Club, lead the charge against polluters. The Clean Air Act requires businesses to meet new clean air requirements by reducing toxic emissions and releases that contribute to smog. This act requires states to issue pollution and control permits. These controls empower the EPA to monitor state programs to make certain they comply with federal regulations.

The Shetland Island Oil Spill (left photo) was one of several careless oil spills caused by negligence. The oil spill devastated miles and miles of coast line as well as many inhabitants of the ocean. Clean up costs were estimated at several billion dollars.

Finally, the method of clearing timber known as clear-cutting (below) came under fire from environmentalists. It is hoped that this method of timber removal will be illegal by the end of 1993. Environmental groups want to protect the prime sanctuary for many threatened species.

Politics played a major role in the 1992-1993 school year. Many important events and happenings highlighted this year. It was a year that introduced many new faces to the political forum including Ross Perot, a new Secretary General of the United Nations, and a new Prime Minister for Israel.

Itszak Rabin, (top right) Israel's Prime Minister, was Chief of Staff when the army captured the West Bank and Gaza Strip 25 years ago. As the newly elected Prime Minister, he pledged to be the peacemaker who would resolve the future of those territories. The 70 year-old Rabin previously was Premier from 1974-1977. In a speech to Parliament, not long after his June election, he let it be known that Israel had a new boss with a hard-nosed approach to Mid East peacemaking. Rabin said he wanted peace in the Middle East. As part of that goal, he stressed the importance of stopping the spread of nuclear weapons in that part of the world. It was one more reason he said, "for the urgent need to end the Arab-Israeli Conflict."

In 1992, Boutros Boutros-Gali (bottom right) became the world's top diplomat — the Secretary General of the United Nations. The former Egyptian Deputy Prime Minister quickly earned high marks for firmness and new ideas. The 69-year-old diplomat was chosen by the Security Council as a transitional, compromise figure and is expected to serve only one five-year term.

Saddam Hussein (above left) is alive and well, living in Baghdad — at least by most accounts. The Mid East War ended in February, 1991. Since that day, President Bush has urged the downfall of the 55-year-old leader. But within Iraq, Saddam Hussein appears to have grown only stronger since his troops were forced out of Kuwait. However, he lives under constant threat of death by Iraqi opposition leaders and a host of other enemies. It was because of this fear of assassination that he organized his personal bodyguard corps and appointed his youngest son, Qusai, as Chief of Presidential Security.

George Bush (Left photo) was born on June 12, 1924. He was elected a Congressman from Texas in 1967. Then, after a stint as CIA Director and Ambassador to the United Nations, and U.S. Ambassador to China, he became Vice President to Ronald Reagan in 1980. In 1988, after 8 years as Vice President George Bush became President. In the 1992 election however, Bill Clinton (Upper right photo) won not only the Democratic Nomination but also the Presidential election. Clinton, and his running mate Al Gore were elected over both George Bush and Ross Perot. The economy--and Bush's perceived mishandling of it -- proved to be the deciding factor of Bill Clinton's election. Clinton, a former Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University and a graduate of Yale Law School became the 42nd President of the United States.

Mariah Carey, (right) has hit it big. The pop vocalist and songwriter set the music world ablaze in 1990 when her debut album was released. Featuring the hit single "Vision of Love," the critics raved about her seven-octave vocal range and her gospel-toned voice. It eventually sold more than seven million copies. She writes and arranges most of her own songs.

The sleek, fashionable foursome En Vogue (below) released their second album "Funky Divas", a lively follow-up to their 1990 debut, "Born to Sing". Although sometimes referred to as the "Supremes of the 90's", no one grabs center stage. Terry Ellis, Dawn Robinson, Cindy Herron and Maxine Jones take turns singing lead. Their rich sound graces several styles on "Funky Divas", from hip hop and rhythm and blues to rap and rock.

Garth Brooks, (left) whose introspective songs and rousing concerts lifted country music to new heights, was voted top entertainer by his peers for the second year in a row in 1992. The 30-year-old superstar managed to top both the country and the pop charts with his album "Ropin' in the Wind" which sold over 9 million copies

Guns N' Roses (above) was a heavy-metal group that had a tendency to get a little rowdy during their concerts. At one such event in St. Louis, 40 concert-goers and 25 police officers were injured in a melee that erupted after Axl Rose leapt from the stage to take a camera from a fan, abruptly ending the show. He was arrested in July, 1992 and charged with four misdemeanor assault counts. The group's latest single, "November Rain," was at the top of the charts in September.

Red Hot Chili Peppers (lower left) released "Blood Sugar Sex Magik" which shot to the top of the charts.

Basketball great Larry Bird(opposite page, upper) retired from the Boston Celtics after a 13-year career. The 35-year-old Bird was plagued by back problems for the last two seasons of his career. His brilliant passing, pinpoint shooting and rebounding made him the consummate team player.

Johnny Carson(opposite page, lower left) ended his stay as host of the Tonight Show. Carson was host of the show for almost 30 years.

Two young children(opposite page, middle) hold up a Christmas card sent by U.S. schoolchildren that echo the sentiments of young children everywhere.

Rodney King, who police say resisted arrest, was beaten on a Los Angeles freeway. Someone videotaped the melee and released the tape to local T.V. stations. When a jury found the policemen innocent, three days of rioting hit Los Angeles(opposite page, lower right). When it ended, 52 people were dead, 2,383 were injured, 18,807 were arrested, and property damage was estimated at $785 million.

The 1992 Summer Olympics marked the introduction of another great set of athletes including Carl Lewis(above) who won the gold medal in the long jump.

The U.S. sent troops into Somalia(left photo) in order to help ease the civil war that was ignited as a result newly elected officials.

Campus Guides

The campus guides of UMass Lowell are responsible for helping incoming students become familiar with the University. They try to acquaint the new students with all of the academic, financial, and personal resources of the college. The guides entertain the incoming students with skits, games, and songs throughout the day. They try to get the incoming students involved as much as possible to help their transition to college be smooth. These upper classmen that make up the Orientation staff really make an effort to make the incoming students feel comfortable within the University. Their great efforts are appreciated by not only the University, but by the incoming freshmen as well.

Trust Me!!!

What Happened?

Residence Life Staff

The Residence Life Staff is dedicated to providing an atmosphere that is beneficial to a student's social, academic, and individual needs. The resident advisors are responsible for teaching new students how to use the resources on campus. They also plan and implement programs for students to attend. Each year the resident advisors are responsible for executing over 200 of these programs. The programs range from study skills workshops, to male/female communications, to mud volleyball.

Residential Orientation

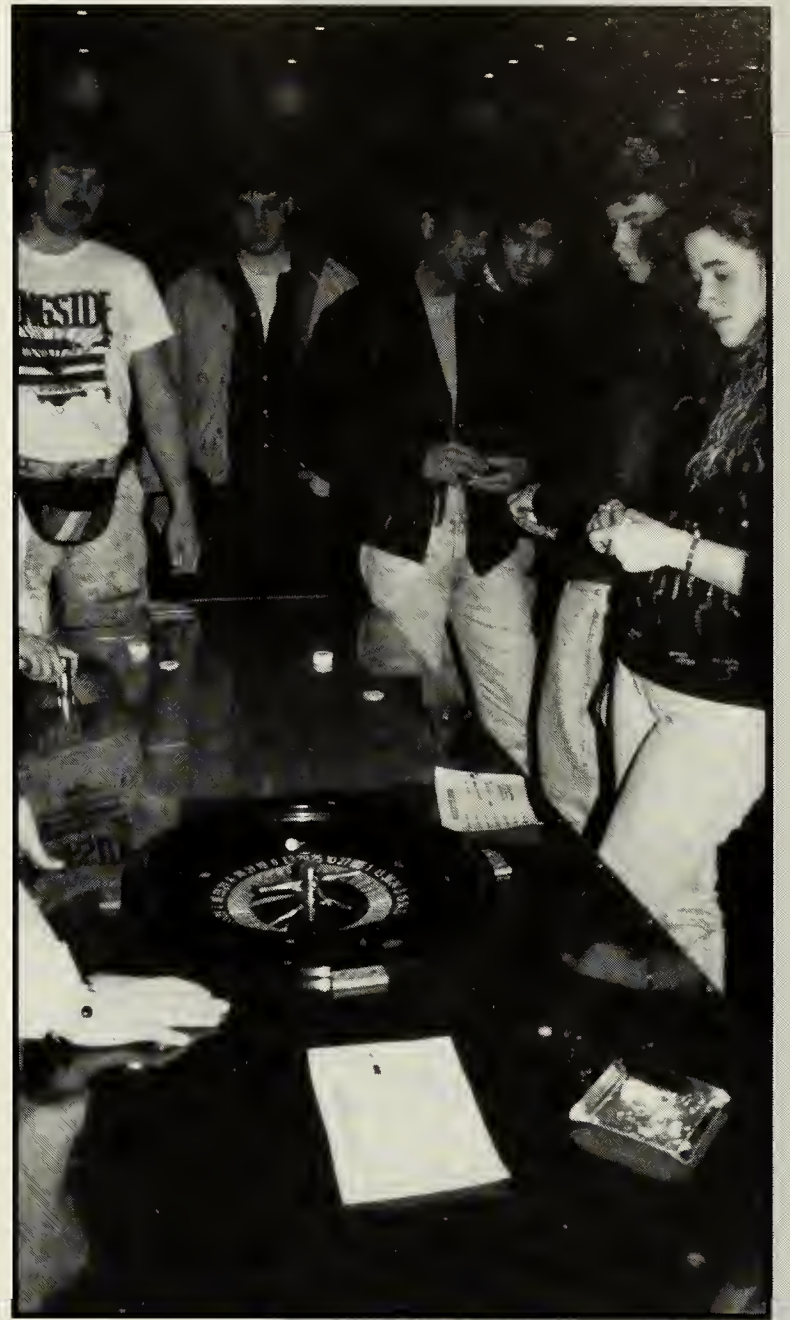

Residential Orientation is a weekend set aside solely for incoming freshmen. The weekend is designed to ease the transition from high school to college. During this weekend, freshmen are encouraged to participate in the games and other activities scheduled for them. Some of these activities include a cookout, cocktails and condoms, a full day of competitions on the south campus quad, a hypnotist, and the ever popular toga party. During this weekend, the freshmen are broken down into groups and are given an animal name. The animal group who is the loudest, shows the most enthusiasm, and receives the most points during the competitions wins a pizza party at the conclusion of the weekend. The mastermind behind Residential Orientation weekend is Annie Ciaraldi.

Casino Night

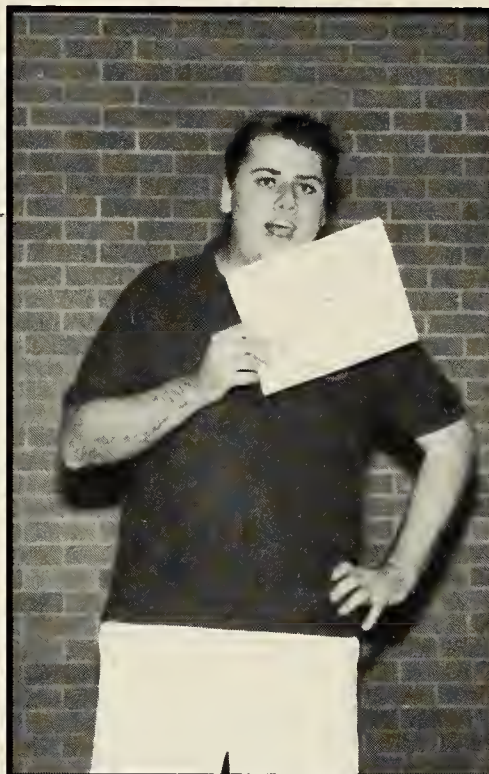

Casino Night was sponsored by the Residence Life office. The event took place in Cumnock Hall on north campus and was coordinated by the Resident Advisors. Students engaged in close to five hours of gambling activities. Black Jack, Roulette, and several other games were featured at this event. The only game that was missing for the true gambler who frequents such establishments was the infamous slot machine. The missing slot machines probably saved more than one of us a few dollars.

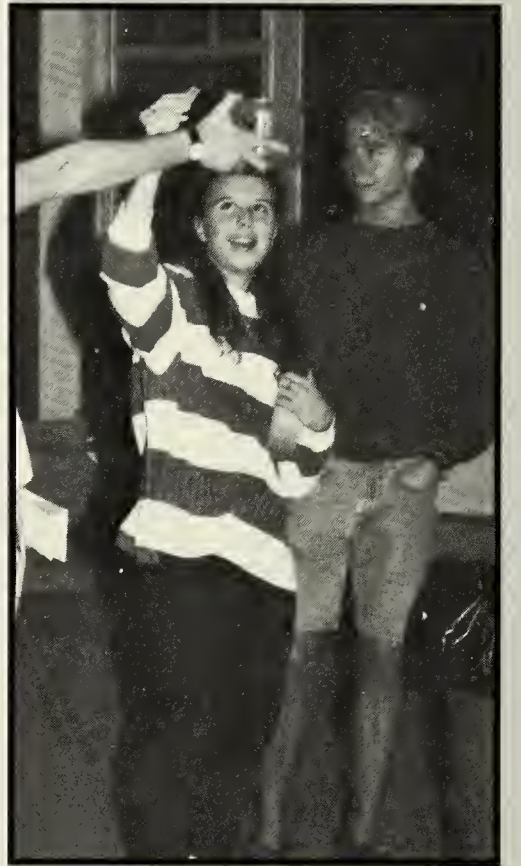

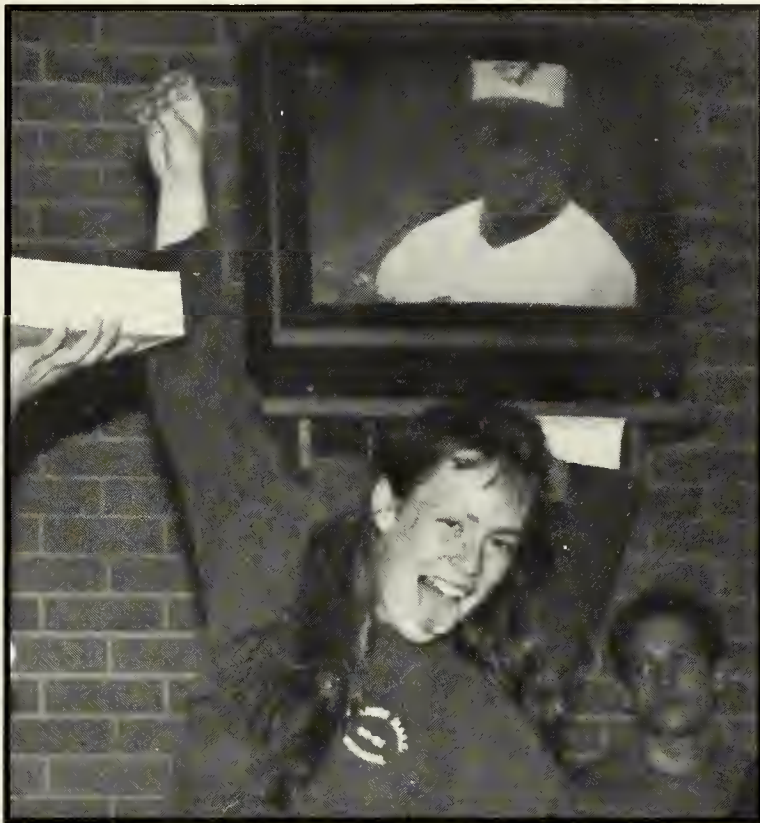

R.A. Auction

Sheehy Hall held a Resident Advisor Auction to benefit The Sheehy Hall Council Fund. This fund helps to sponsor activities for hall residents. Each Resident Advisor picks a service they will perform for the highest bidder (residents only). The resident's choices included Jason Stockwell (below) as a chauffeur for one night, dinner for two prepared by Tracy Greskovic (bottom right), and Mike Choquette auctioned his Res Life parking spot for one week.

Human Regurgitator

The human regurgitator offered a unique and peculiar form of entertainment. The crowd gaped in amazement as the performer swallowed glass, an eight ball, a goldfish, sugar, and butane fluid. Somehow the performer managed to bring all these objects back from the pit of his stomach.

All objects that were swallowed were dry upon removal from the entertainer's mouth, including the sugar. Even more remarkable, the goldfish was still alive. We all left that night wondering how these feats were accomplished.

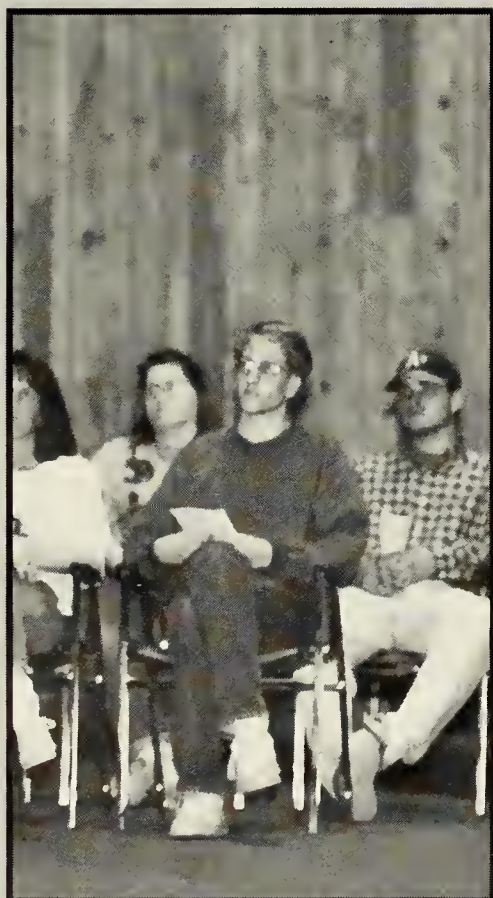

Mock Trial

The Mock Rape Trial is a recreation of a court proceeding that attempts to create awareness of sexual assault and exploitation. The event tries to portray how this crime affects the victim, defendant and the people in their lives. Students, faculty and campus police play the roles of the characters and audience members are chosen to be jurors. No matter what the outcome, it is hoped that everyone in attendance would leave with a better understanding of how lives can be destroyed by such a traumatic event.

Denny Dent and his two-fisted art attack visited campus during Spring Carnival Week. The performer paints with both his hands at extraordinary speeds. Denny completed three large canvas paintings within an hour. His hands were a blur for most of the performance, and it was difficult to determine what exactly his thrown paint was becoming until he was almost finished. His portraits, when finished, were detailed and amazingly clear. If you missed Denny coming to campus, you can check out one of his masterpieces in the Mary McGauvran Student Union Building, next to the television.

Denny Dent

Family Day

Family Day welcomed students' family and friends to the University. The day consisted of club booths, various concerts and entertaining programs. Students and families celebrated the beginning of the school year, while parents and relatives saw first hand the school their child is attending. The day was planned by the Activities Commission and the Office of Student Activities and Commuter Services, with help from the many student clubs.

The Oxfam Hunger Banquet is sponsored by the Catholic Center. Three different meals were provided representing first, second, and third world countries. The meals were a full course dinner, soup & bread, and rice and water, respectively. The students at this event are all entered into a random drawing that is proportional to the number of people in the world who are forced to eat these limited diets. Almost all of us enjoyed the rice, while only two feasted on a first world dinner. The event was designed to increase awareness of the existing hunger all over the world.

Bomb Scare

Towards the end of Spring semester, a call was placed to campus police about the possibility of a bomb located in a mailbox on south campus. State and local police, the Lowell Fire Department, and Explosive Specialist from the State Fire Marshal responded. The area surrounding the mailbox was roped off, classes in nearby buildings were cancelled and the buildings were evacuated. Once it was determined by officials that the bomb was no more powerful than an M-80 firecracker, it was set off inside the mailbox. Classes resumed shortly after. Some students will stop at nothing to get out of class.

Spring Carnival

Activities Commission's Spring Carnival Week came to a climatic conclusion with University Day. We were all given a day of respite from our studies in order to celebrate Spring Carnival at the University. The field was lined with club tables which offered food, games and crafts. Among the events the Activities Commission sponsored were amusement rides, air volleyball, and the Whalers. At the end of a long and grueling day, how could we not wind down at Astros, Johnny's, the P.S.C., the Green Condos, the Red Condos or any other establishment I may have missed. Remember this weekend twenty years from now when you're lecturing your kids on how things were so much tamer when you were in college.

Grease

The Off Broadway Players presented the play Grease to the University. Their productions are open to all students, faculty, staff and members of the Lowell community. It is always a much anticipated show, and Grease was no exception! The story of teenage love and rebellion was presented beautifully!

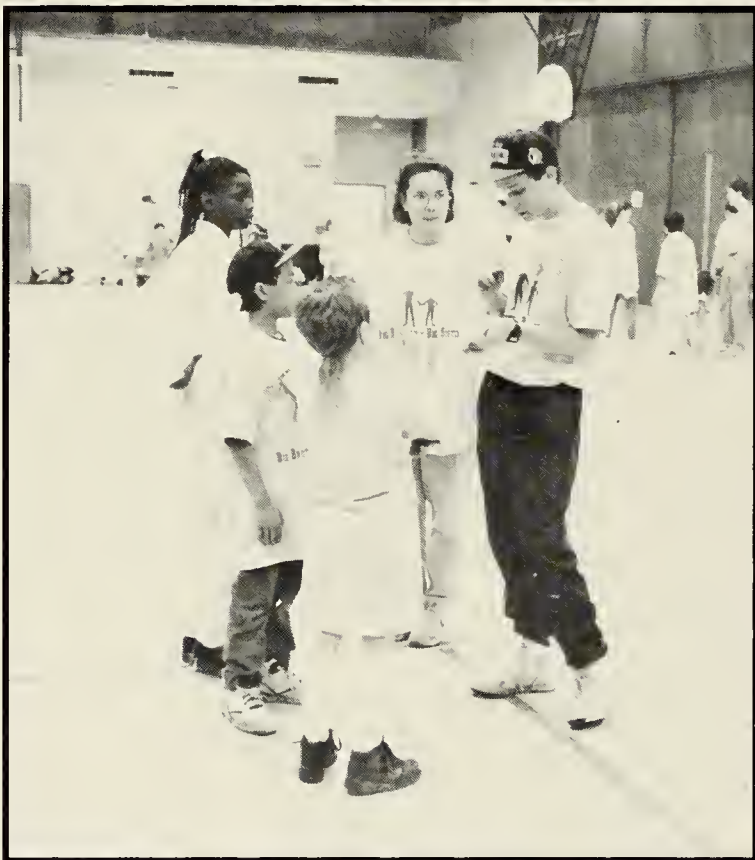

Performance

The University was blessed with one student's effort to showcase student talent. The evening highlighted the singing talent from the student body. In addition, the managerial talents of one student shown as she planned and coordinated the entire evening. The result was an evening to be remembered by all in attendance. It proved to all the insurmountable resources to be found in our University.

Big Brother Big Sister Day

charge here?

Big brother/ Big Sister day was a chance for us all to help out the surrounding community. Over 100 young children were brought in from Lowell and other close by cities and towns for a day of fun and games. The children were led through the day's activities by UMass. Lowell students, who also participated in all of the games for the youngsters. The Student Government Association was responsible for the planning, funding, and implementation of the day's events. A.R.A., the University's dining service, also donated all of the lunches to help make this day a success. These students took the time to make a difference simply by volunteering to donate just one day of their lives.

Ode to a Volunteer

*Many will be shocked to find
When the day of judgement nears that there's a special place in Heaven
Set aside for volunteers.
Furnished with big recliners,
Satin couches and footstools.
Where there's no committee chairman,
No group leaders or car pools,
No eager team that needs a coach
No bazaar and no bake sale.
There will be nothing to staple
Not one thing to fold or mail
Telephone lists will be outlawed,
But a finger snap will bring
Cool drinks and gourmet dinners,
And rare treats fit for a king.
You ask, who'll serve these privileged few
And work for all they're worth?
Why all those who reaped the benefits
And not once volunteered on earth.*

Crash At Noon

As part of Alcohol Awareness Week, the B.A.C.C.H.U.S. Club in conjunction with Lowell Saving Lives organization arranged for a simulated drunk driving accident to take place on University Avenue. The event was staged to increase awareness of the hazards of drunk driving. Thanks to the many organizations who volunteered the tow truck, the hearse, the University and Lowell Police cars and all the necessary personnel to make this event seem as real as possible. Special thanks to the E.M.T. Society and especially the Off Broadway Players who expertly acted out the parts of the crash victims.

The National Youth Sports Program is a program initiated by the Athletics department that tries to teach youngsters that sporting activities can offer an alternative to drugs and alcohol. NYSP teaches children how to use their energies in a constructive manner. The Athletics Department runs this program over the course of three weeks. The program is assisted mainly by UMass Lowell athletes who help these children learn to interact with each other.

Romper Room

Whoever said we should act our age? Tests and papers will give anyone a reason to act a little childish. Welcome, boys and girls, to Romper Room! The idea proved a great one as students came to relive a little of their childhood. Events such as hopscotch, twister and hula-hooping proved extremely popular. It was a classic example of the fun-loving attitude found at the University. The event was pure fun and games! Students were able to leave their worries and problems in the classroom, and have a little fun during recess. Romper Room was sponsored by the Resident Advisors as a little break for the University's residents. It made some of us wonder if we could return to our kindergarten days...forever! Maybe not, but it was fun trying!

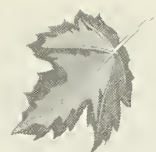

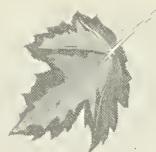

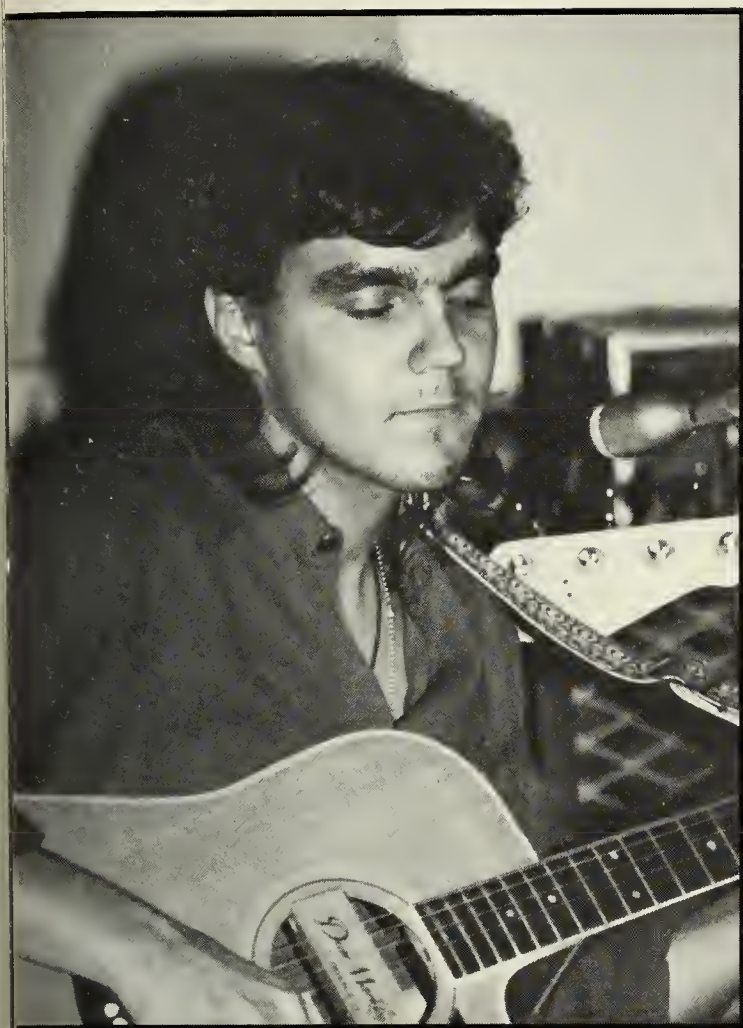

Sugarloaf Ski Trip

The Sugarloaf ski trip was an event open to all campus students. Forty students crowded into the Bluebird with their skis, poles and accessories. After the grueling three hour ride, we were all rewarded with fresh powder, and lightly traveled trails. The lift lines were almost non-existent and everyone was able to get in a full day of skiing that can only be dreamt about at the smaller mountains of Massachusetts.

Java Hut

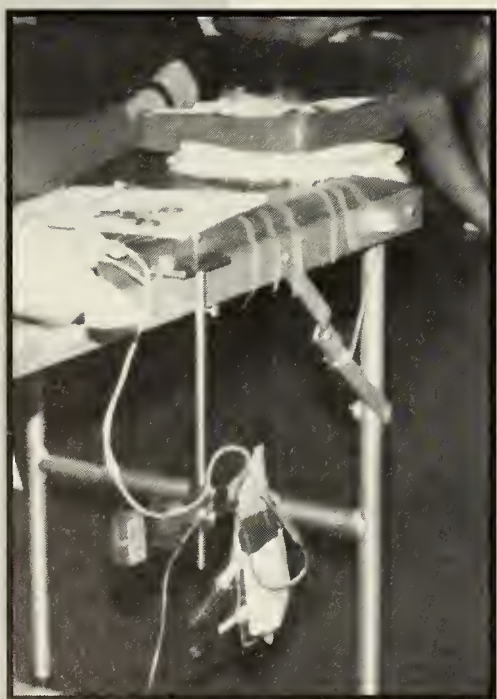

The students of the University enjoyed the intense social scene provided by the Java Hut. The Java Hut showcased the musical and poetic talent of numerous University students. In addition, the Java Hut supplied interesting company, conversation and good coffee. As the Java Hut grew in popularity, more and more students took advantage of this unique study break offered throughout the year. It presented the opportunity to see our classmates in situations not encountered in the classroom. All in attendance were pleasantly surprised with what they saw and heard!

Blood Drive

The University again showed its generous spirit by hosting Red Cross blood drives. In a time of major shortages of blood, students gave a few minutes of their time to help those in need. The blood drives gave the participants a feeling of accomplishment, a sense of personal fulfillment, and the knowledge that they helped make a difference. The drives came to the University numerous times throughout the year, and were crowded with students each time! The blood drives were just one of many instances where UMass students made a difference!

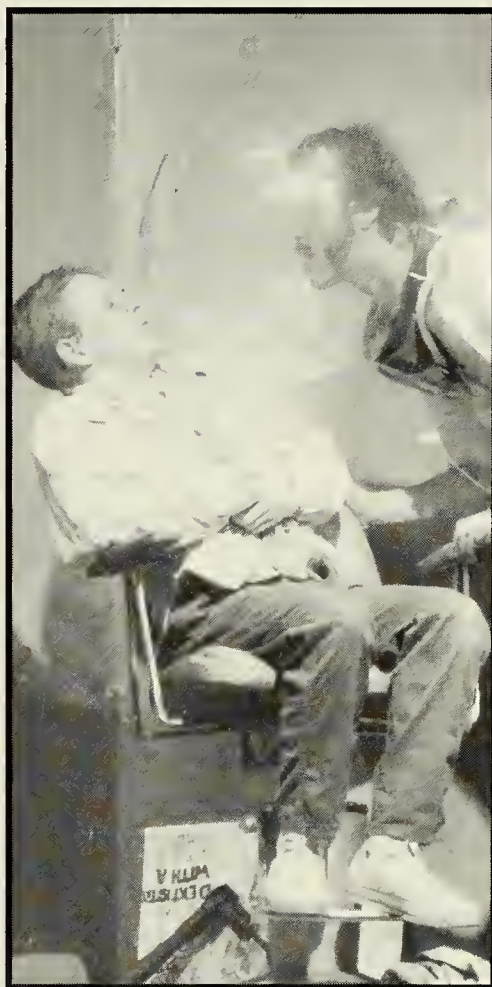

The Little Shop of Horrors was performed by the Off Broadway Players, at their annual Spring performance. The Players did a fabulous job with the production of the play and all who attended were sure to see how much time and effort went into these near flawless performances. The performers seemed to release an electricity into the air that the crowd could not help but respond to. The play was well crafted and executed and encouraged all those in attendance to return to see future shows.

Midnight Snacks

College students are famous for their healthy nutrition. Days, evenings, nights, and weekends were spent at the local pizza places and watering holes. Some of the University's most popular spots include Johnny's, The PSC, Domino's, 3T's, the Dutton Street Grille, and Fio's. So much time was spent there, in fact, it seemed unnatural to leave them out of the Yearbook. Nothing tasted better than pizza and beer after hours of cramming for exams. Sometimes it appeared that some students spent more time there than in class. But that wasn't true - or was it? The local watering holes were always crowded on Thursday nights as students tried to release the week's tension and escape their problems for at least a little while! And of course, nothing was more appreciated and anticipated than the pizza delivery man at midnight! All the time our parents spent worrying about our health now seems so unnecessary! The memories of these places will last well past graduation. Let's just hope the "healthy" eating habits don't!

The UMass Lowell Chiefs had a somewhat disappointing season finishing at 4 wins and 14 losses. Despite the performance as a team, the women's varsity field hockey members had many strong personal performances throughout the season that are definitely worthy of mention.

Senior goalie Ruth Benoit, from Gloucester, MA, was named All-American, Second Team. She is the first player in the history of the Field Hockey program to be named to the All-American Team. Ruth played in every game this season and had an average of 2.10 goals per game, she faced 383 shots on goal and turned away 328. Melanie Bearce had an outstanding year with the most points of the season (12), most goals in a game (6), and the most game winning goals (2). Miki Brian and Kelly Welch both had a great season with 10 points each while Jennifer Brown had the most assists of the season (5).

The UMass Lowell Football Chiefs finished their season with a record of 4-4-1. The team was inconsistent from one game to the next. Often it appeared that they were untouchable, while other times it seemed nothing could fall into place for them. Despite their unpredictable nature, the Chiefs still managed to keep us all entertained, with several outstanding individual accomplishments.

Four Chiefs were given honorable mention as Freedom Football Conference All-Stars. Jeff Benjamin, OL, Scott Boyle, LB, Tom Machado, RB, and Billy Rizos, QB, were the recipients. Jamie Desmarais, DT, Tim Kenny, C, and John Wagner, TE, all were named to the Freedom Football Conference All-Star, Second Team. Tom Bradley, WR, and Dan Medwar, DE were named to the Freedom Football Conference All Star, First Team. Dan Medwar was also recognized by several other awards including First Team All-American in Don Hansen's Football Gazette, Most Valuable Defensive Lineman in Don Hansen's Football Gazette, New England Football Writers' All-New England College Division, Second Team All-ECAC Division Three New England College Division, and the Freedom Football Conference Defensive Player of the Year.

Billy Rizos finished the season with 124 completions for 1,417 yards and 12 touchdowns. He led the Chiefs' quarterbacks with a 51.9% completion/attempt. Tom Bradley had 59 receptions for 893 Yards, and Tom Machado led the Chiefs in rushing with 611 yards.

The University of Massachusetts Lowell Men's Soccer Team had a disappointing year with a record of (3-15-1). The Chiefs spent most of the season rebuilding and never really put all the components together. The team is looking forward to next season and re-establishing themselves in a league of tough competitors. Although the team as a whole did not have a terrific season, there were many individual efforts that are noteworthy.

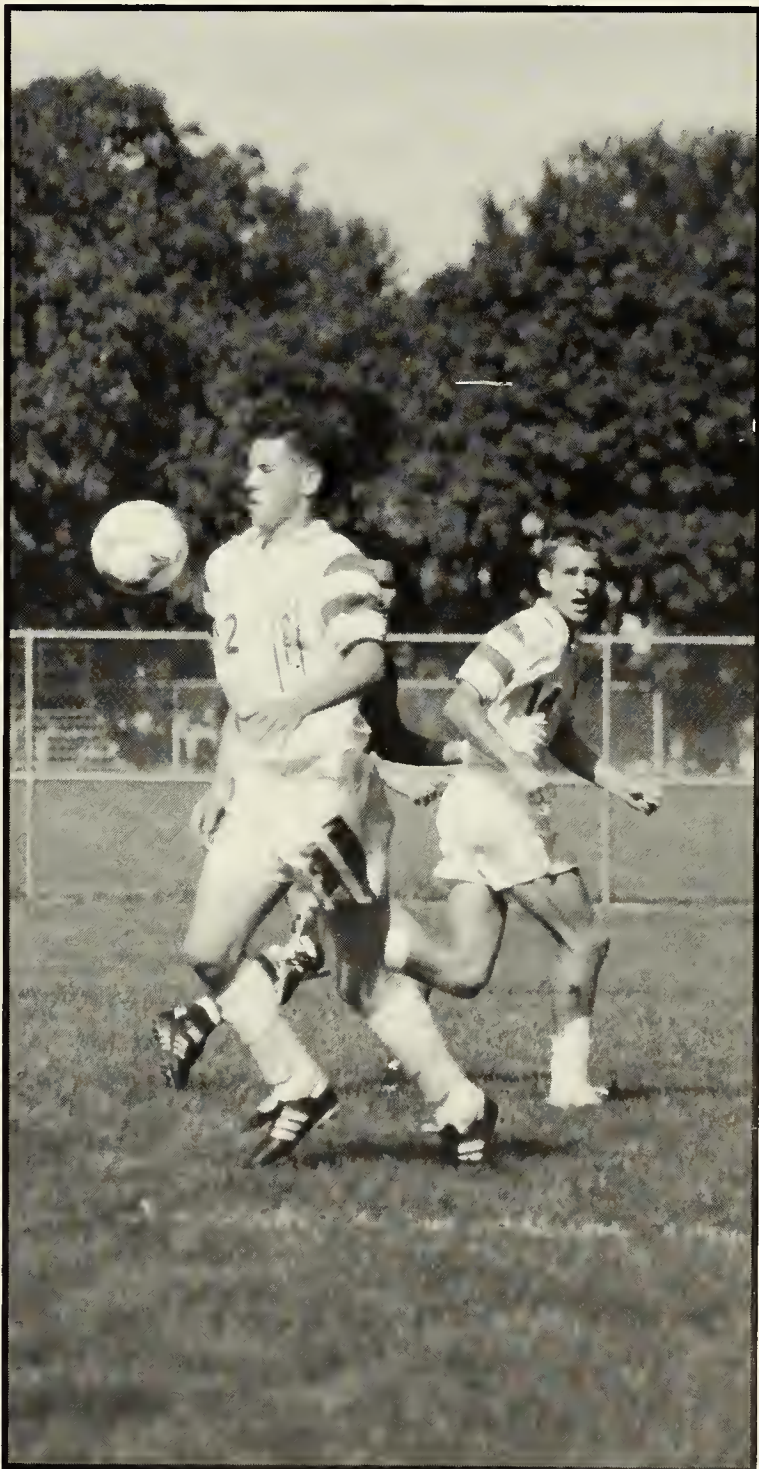

Captain Steve DiLeo had the most overall assists (4). Captain Dave Foley has 3 goals and 3 assists for a total of 9 points, second only to Mark Davis' record of 4 goals and 2 assists for a total of 10 points. Goalie Paul Pelletier had the most saves by a goalie (155 saves out of 289 shots) and the most shutouts (3).

The University of Massachusetts Lowell Varsity Women's Tennis Team had a season record of 7-6. The team won the New England Collegiate Conference Team Championship for the fourth consecutive year. The team swept all 16 of its matches for the second consecutive year at the NECC, and has lost just one match in the last three years' at the NECC Tournaments.

Individual statistics were headed by Joy Higgins. Her record was Matches Wins 17, Losses 2, Sets: Wins 35, Losses 4, and Games: Wins 227 and Losses 84.

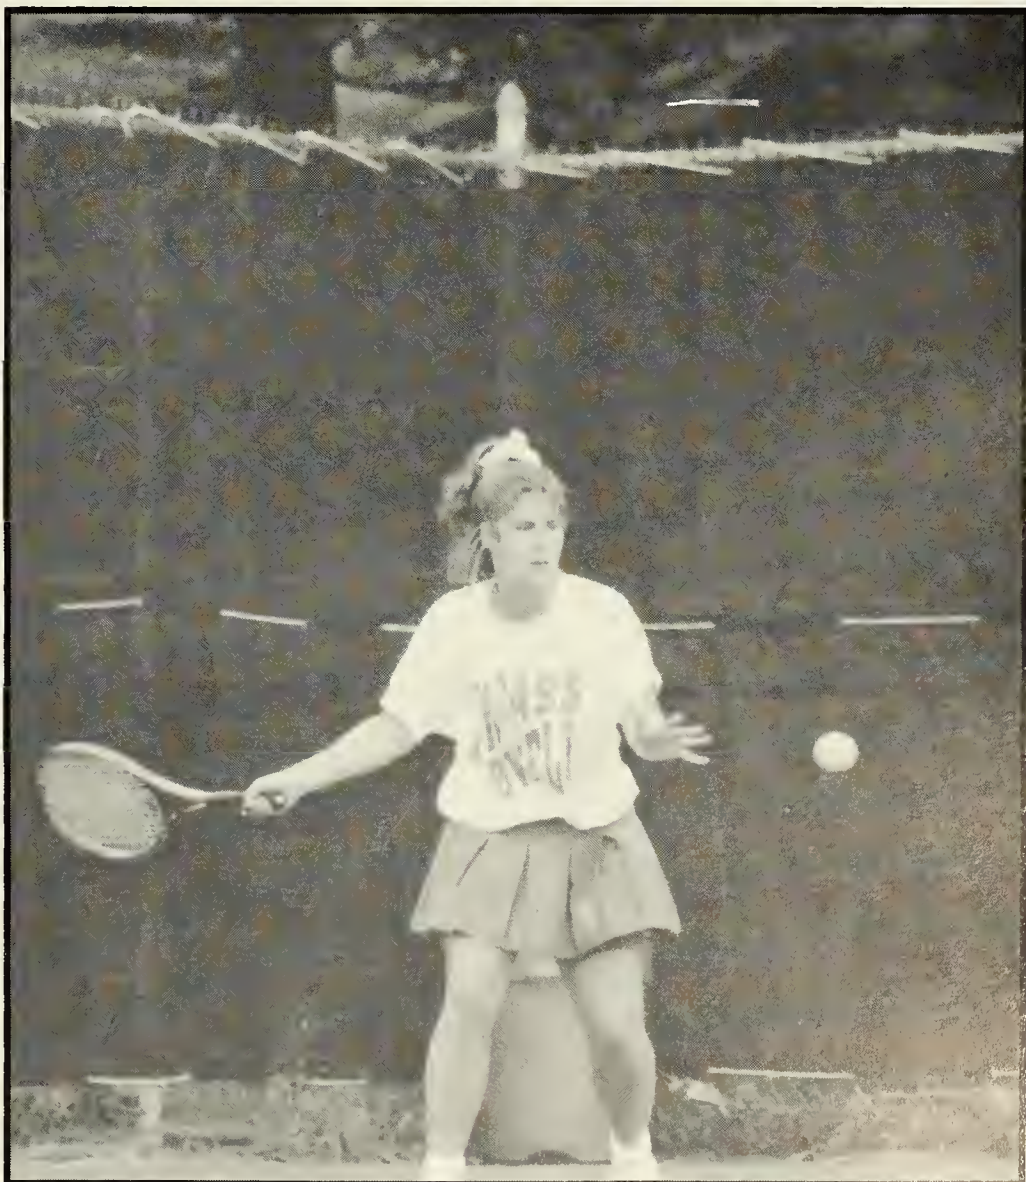

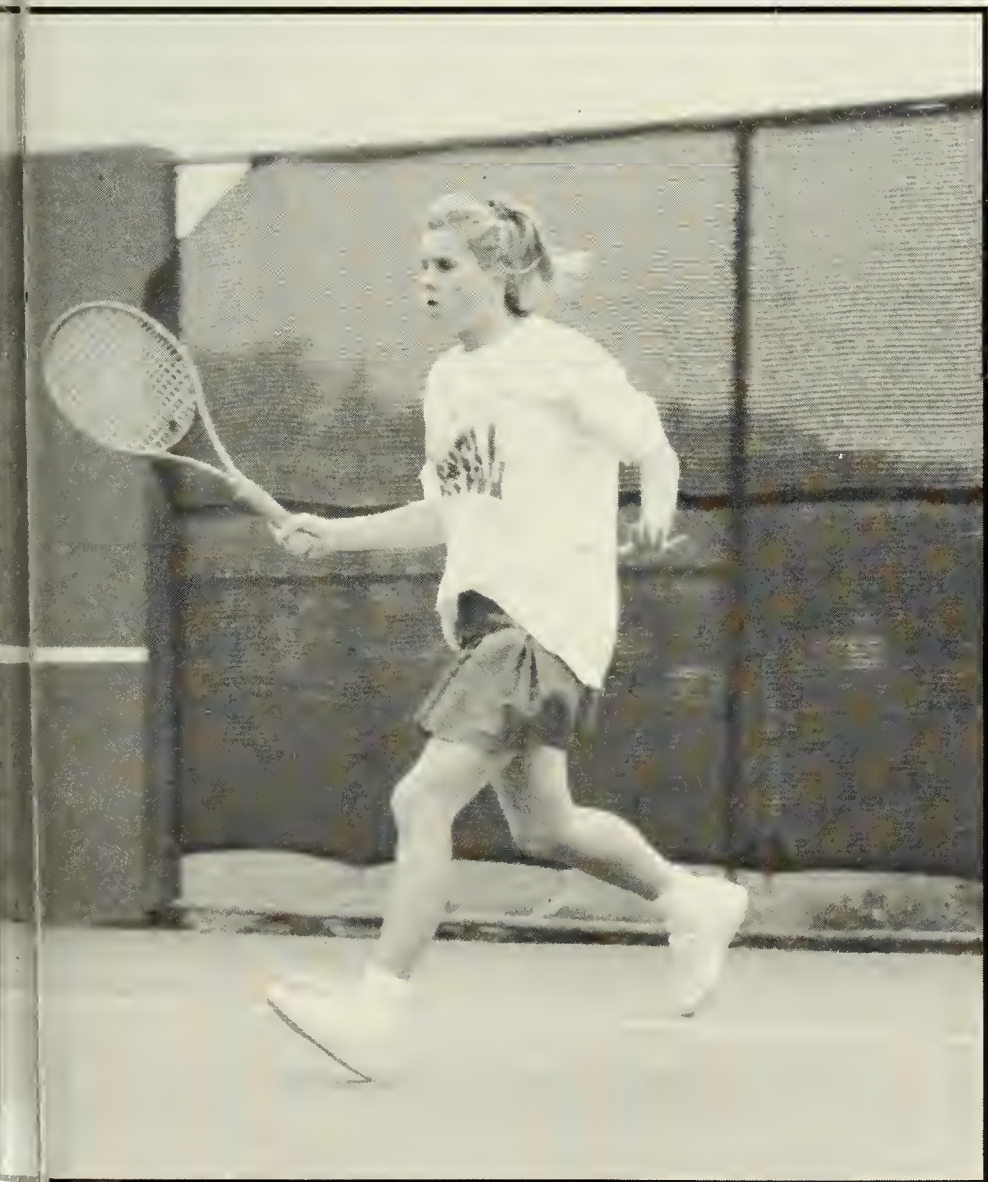

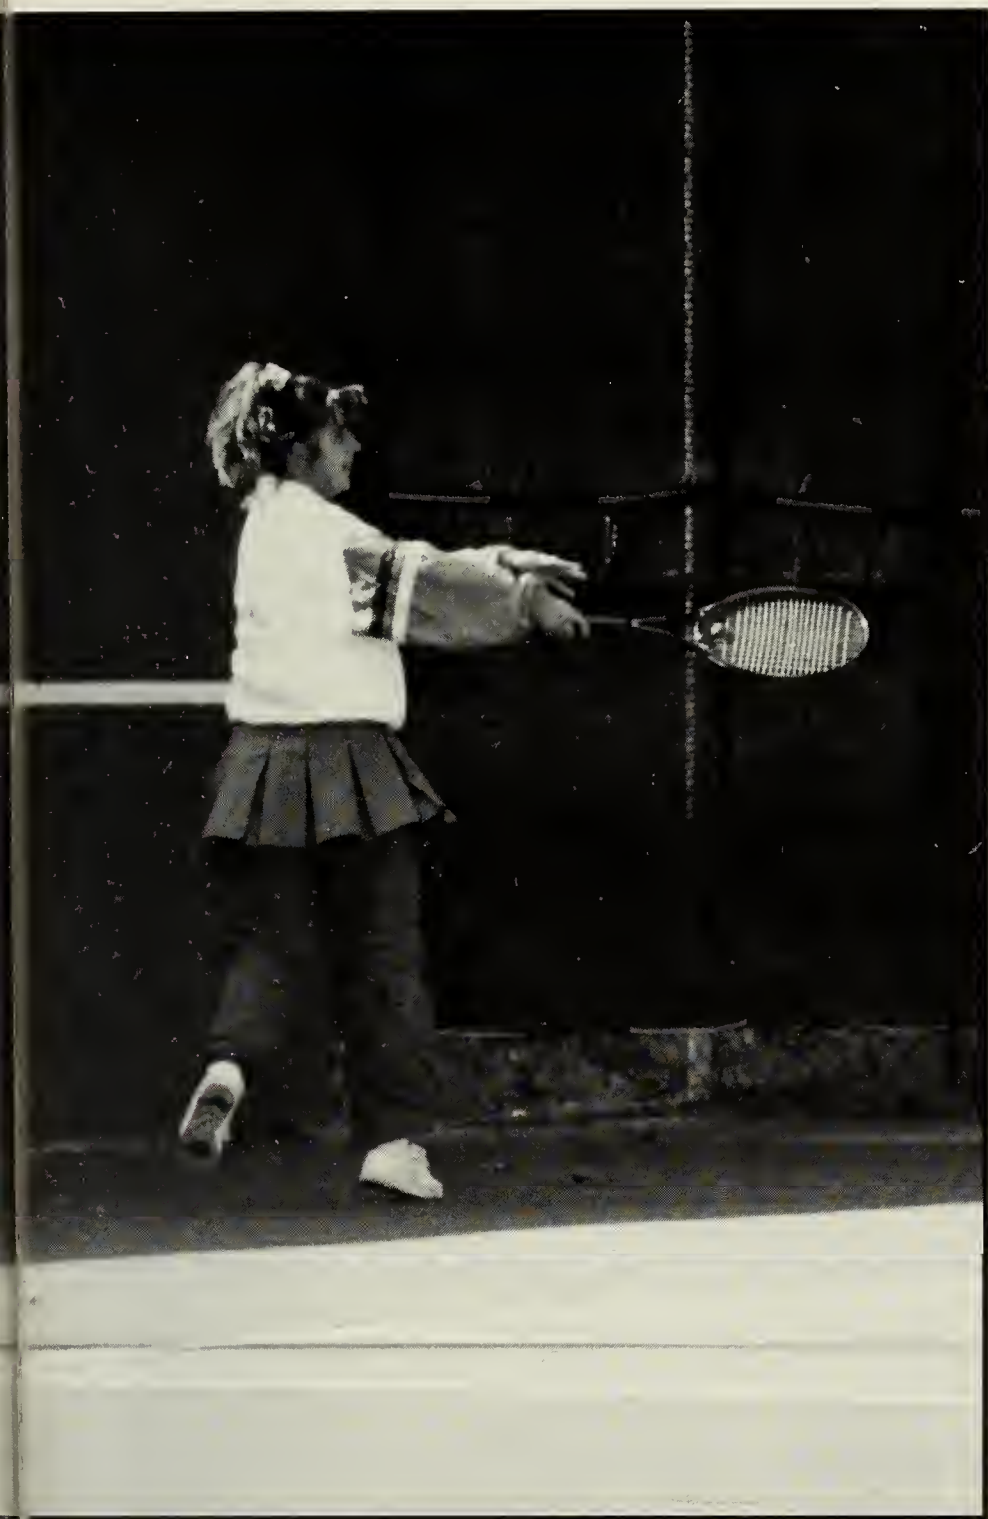

Doubles statistics were dominated by the team of Joy Higgins and Captain Valeri LaBelle. They achieved a record of Matches: Wins 159, Losses 125, Sets Wins 18, Losses 12, and Games: Wins 159, Losses 125.

The following is a tabulation of the 1993 individual awards and accomplishments. Joy Higgins received the New England Collegiate Champion First Singles while Valeri LaBelle took Second Singles. The New England Collegiate Conference Champion for First Doubles was taken by Derilyn Kenney and Laura Marshall, while Second Doubles went to Charleen Amato and Erin Poomhirum.

The UMass Lowell Volleyball team struggled to a record of 8-20. The Chiefs, who over the two previous years had enjoyed a smashing record of 64-13, spent most of the year rebuilding with its new recruits. The 92-93 season was only the second time in the last 14 seasons that the Chiefs experienced a losing record, so expect them to rise back to the top next year.

The Chiefs were blessed with several individual performances that may have been overshadowed by the team's overall record. Lori Hudzik and Vicki Lawrence both were named to the All-Tournament Team at St. Michael's. Lori had 246 attack kills, 115 digs, and a total of 82 blocks (52 of which were assisted). Vicki compiled 264 kills, maintained the best percentage of kills per attack, and completed 111 digs. Marion McNabb led the Chiefs with the most attacks, and the most kills.

The Men's Basketball team finished the season with an overall record of thirteen wins and fifteen losses. This record is not a true representation of the team's ability, as they placed fourth in the NECC division with a 7-7 record. This assured the Chiefs' homecourt in the first round of the NECC tournament. They advanced to the semi-finals, where they lost to the eventual champion New Hampshire College.

For the first time ever, a UMASS Lowell student received the NECC Rookie of the year award. Broderick (Rick) Spencer was chosen for this award for the '92-'93 season. This was only one of his accomplishments. Spencer finished the season second in scoring with 12.8 ppg, a total of 358 points. He also led the team with 83 three-pointers. Captain A.J. Hoff led the team in scoring with 15.5 ppg, and a total of 435 points. He also grabbed more rebounds than anyone else with 203. A.J. also led the team in field goal percentage, shooting 54% from the floor. Spencer Staggs led the team with 55 steals and also dished out 68 assists, second only to Anton Marchand. Marchand led the way for the Chief's compiling 69 assists. Willie Collins led the team in blocks with 12. Zach Zegarowski led the team with the highest free throw percentage (based on 50 or more attempts) shooting 80.8% from the line.

Back Row: Kelly Kirkpatrick, Diane DiRoma, Talia Busby, Kris Gorski, Darlene Orlando-Ciarcia, Mary Carroll, Nora "Dobee" Baston and Lakisha Phelps.

The UMass Lowell women's basketball team won its second New England Collegiate Conference regular season and tournament championships in the last three years, and earned an automatic berth in the NCAA Regional Tournament. The Chiefs beat Stonehill College in the first round before losing in the regional final to Bentley College.

Darlene Orlando-Ciarcia was the first UMass Lowell player to be chosen as the NECAC Division Two Female Athlete of the Year. She was also NECC player of the year. Ciarcia was NECC player of the week for the weeks of Dec. 14, 1992; Jan. 10, Feb. 1, and Feb. 21, 1993. Ciarcia and Kim Bringham were chosen for the All-New England Collegiate Conference teams. Bringham was named to the second team and Ciarcia to the first. Coach Kathy O'Neil won her 100th game of her coaching career.

The high scorer of the season was Darlene Orlando-Ciarcia with 581 points. She led the Chiefs in scoring in 19 out of 30 games. Ciarcia was also the high rebounder with 294 rebounds. Leaders in most assists were Nora Baston with 78, and Lakisha Phelps with 83. Ginger Sanford had the most steals, 51. Ciarcia had the most blocks of the season, 67. The overall record for the Chiefs was 24 wins and 6 losses.

Swim Teams

The Swim team finished the 1992-1993 season with a record of 6 wins and 12 losses. The season started out on a positive note as the Chiefs' managed to win their first 4 meets, defeating Salem State, Bentley, Keene State, and St. Rose. The team looked to be on pace for a record-breaking season. However, as the season progressed, the Chiefs' struggled, and at one point had lost 5 meets in a row.

The Chief's season was highlighted by many great individual performances. Among them was Jim Puccio, who placed first in 27 different competitions, leading the team in total points and receiving the Coaches' Award for Most Valuable Player. John Jakubek, had 20 first place finishes, was 2nd on the team with 248.75 total points, and was voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates.

The Wrestling Team completed the 1992-1993 season with a record of 6 wins and 15 losses. The Chiefs', who are in the process of rebuilding, were inconsistent in the 1992- 1993 season. The team won a couple of hard fought battles against some very good teams. Unfortunately, they also suffered a few losses against teams that perhaps they could have prevailed against.

Despite the team's frustrations, several key wrestlers were able to prevail in some of New England's most difficult tournaments. Ricci DeRosa, who wrestled at the 142 lbs. weight class, was the Champion of the Roger Williams Tournament. Todd Ducharme, wrestling at 150 placed third in the Roger Williams Tournament, and fourth in the NCAA Regional Tournament. Jim Harrington, wrestling at 142 lbs, had the second most individual points on the team with 59. He also placed second in the NCAA Regional Tournament, second at the Plymouth State Tournament, and first at the Roger Williams Tournament. Sean Harrington, wrestling at 167, lead the team with 71 points overall. He was champion at the Roger Williams Tournament, champion of the NCAA Regional Tournament, and placed third at the Plymouth State Tournament. These accomplishments helped Sean to be selected as a participant in the NCAA division Two Championships in North Dakota.

UMass Lowell Men's and Women's crew teams had mixed results in the 1992-1993 season. The men's crew team spent most of the season building on its young foundation of varsity athletes. The team was comprised of only a few returning varsity lettermen, and therefore lacked the necessary depth to compete at the levels that they were known to in the past. However, next year this young nucleus will have the experience and skills to take the league by storm. The men's team enjoyed its greatest performance of the season on April 17, when they rowed against Assumption, Brandeis, Clark, UConn., and Worcester State and their Varsity 4 man boat captured third place.

The Chiefs women's rowing team was fortunate to have several returning lettermen that led the team to place highly in several tournaments. They were anchored by four varsity letterwomen and an all-important coxswain. Samira Ashour, Barbara Reynolds, Helen Silva, and Michelle Lipczer rowed to victory lane with Sharon Cutt's voice echoing in the background. They placed first in Varsity 4 and Varsity lightweight 4 on the Merrimack River on the April 17, 1993 meet versus Assumption, Brandeis, Clark, UConn., and Worcester State. They also placed fifth at the New England Rowing Championships.

The Chiefs Golf team competed for the ECAC Golf Championship. They were 4th of 17 teams. They were also 18th of 48 teams for the New England Championships. Derek Ladd was named to the Golf Coaches of America All District One team. This is a 54-hole Tournament. The team qualified for the Division 2 Invitational, and placed 2nd of 8 teams. They also qualified for the 33rd annual ECAC Championships. They were 2nd of 4 teams in the NECC Championships.

The Men's Tennis Team finished at an impressive 5 wins and 4 losses in a tough conference. The Chiefs tied for the New England Collegiate Conference Team Championships, and enjoyed their best record since the 1989 season. Dan Greenberger, 2nd singles, finished 13-4 on the season and won the NECC Championship for 2nd singles. He also reached the consolation finals in 3rd singles at New England's Championships. Andy Granger and Joshua Bulotsky finished 3-0 together and were the NECC Champions for 1st doubles. Andy Shupe was impressively consistent in his freshman season despite back problems and Jorge Munoz gave to the team his always spirited play.

The University of Massachusetts Lowell Softball team finished the season with an 11-17 overall record. In the New England Collegiate Conference, they finished fifth with a record of 5-9. Although the team's record did not allow them to advance into the championships, there were several team and individual achievements that cannot go unrecognized.

The Chiefs set a few UMass Lowell records with the most runs in a game (17), the most runs in an inning (8), and the most hits in a game (16). Individual achievements included Carolyn Beaulieu, Outfield, who was named to the All-New England Collegiate Conference, Second Team and Kim Sullivan, Pitcher, who was elected captain for the 1994 season.

Clubs & Organizations

Clubs & Organizations are yet another facet of campus life. Regardless of whether you enjoy politics (S.G.A.), journalism (Connector), planning campus wide events (Activities Commission), or even simple role playing adventures (MAGIK) there is certainly a club to satisfy everyone's preferences. These clubs and organizations provided a much needed distraction from the long tedious hours of studying. Our involvement also enabled us to meet a wide variety of people, some of which ended up becoming our closest of friends.

The University of Massachusetts Lowell offers over 100 clubs and organizations to its students. Ranging from The Connector to Off-Broadway Players, the diverse selection provided ensures that every student will find a club that represents at least one of their interests. Each club and organization is unique in its own way. With the variety of clubs most everyone finds something to be involved in. The clubs and organizations are an essential part of life to a UMASS Lowell student. It takes a well rounded student to juggle a busy schedule and still be involved.

SOJOURN STAFF

I would like to take this time to thank all those who spent countless hours putting together the 1993 Yearbook. First I would like to say that there were only six people who were with this yearbook from start to finish. Three of the six people were not even students here at UMass Lowell. Norm Benrimo, from Yearbook Associates provided countless fantastic pictures as well as good humor and a great story telling ability. John Neister, from Jostens Printing & Publishing gave invaluable computer and design advice as well as catching many of our errors and oversights. Tammy Millette, an employee here at UMass Lowell, often spent as much time during the week as I did in the yearbook office and she also worked a forty hour week at the Office of University Life. Steve DeSimone, a Sophomore with a double major in Management Information Systems and Marketing, provided crucial help entering layouts and data on the computers, while maintaining his 3.8 grade point average. Kelly Duggan, a Sophomore in Management Information Systems, mastered the art of cropping and selected many of the pictures you see on the pages in this book.

I would also like to thank Jenn Berry, Mary Connelly our advisor extraordinaire, Jerry Donovan for taking time out of his work schedule to take much needed photographs, Ellen Duggan for proofing all text, Danielle Hockman for her late inning support, Fred Longabard for his countless pictures, Boa Pham for coordinating sport pictures, Cheryl Ricardo for helping me get this book started, and Aki Shimizuishi for his summer support.

The Red Sox

The Red Sox game marked the beginning of a week of celebration of ourselves and our accomplishments. The week was only six days long but filled with enough memories to last a lifetime. The game started the countdown towards graduation and we could all feel the electricity in the air.

It was a beautiful day over Fenway as the seniors filed in to see the Boston Red Sox narrowly defeat the Texas Rangers in twelve innings. Spirits and emotions were high as the Red Sox staged a rally in the late innings that could not be matched by the Texas Rangers. The final score? The Red Sox prevailed six to five over Texas.

Medieval Manor

"In the race to be better or best, do not miss the joy of being".

Day two of Senior Week led us to the Medieval Manor. The Medieval Manor was quite a different experience from our usual evening dining. The King and his Jester kept us all entertained. Can you remember the duel for the right to use the bathroom? Luckily, we made it through the night without any major casualties. Gone were all the worries of exams and papers. The night was both exciting and eventful and we knew the end of our college experience was growing closer. However, this did not stop us because we realized that these last few days with our friends should be cherished and appreciated.

The Tent

Once again we were blessed with beautiful weather during Senior Week, this time at the Senior Barbeque. Aside from the food, which was allegedly the focal point of this event, there were other activities to keep our minds amused. The Tent was filled with many games which included everything from basketball to volleyball. We played musical chairs for the first time in probably five years and we got down during the Limbo contest. We danced well into the night before returning home, and it felt as though nothing could ever take away this night.

The Senior Cruise

The Senior Cruise brought us out on the Boston harbor for the fourth day of Senior Week. We enjoyed many laughs and refreshments. It became apparent early why this cruise is commonly known as the Booze Cruise. Seniors took full advantage of this opportunity to spend an exciting evening, socializing and touring historic Boston Harbor. As the evening rolled on the Class of '93 came together as a group, knowing that this would be one of the last chances to celebrate. We had finally finished our college career, (although it took some of us longer than others,) and we were not afraid to let the city of Boston know it. We sailed late into the night, dancing and making memories that would last a lifetime.

Senior Ball

The Class of 1993 would like to cordially invite you to once again join us at our Senior Ball. The Event took place on June 4, 1993 at the Boston Park Plaza and Towers in Boston, Massachusetts. Cocktails were served at 6:30 P.M. and dinner soon followed. Entertainment was provided by DJ Mark Drews. Seniors took this opportunity to dress themselves up and enjoy an evening of dining, dancing, and romancing. It was our chance to leave the University in style. Men were dazzling in their tuxedos, and the women were stunning in their gowns. We talked with our friends about our experiences here at the University and prayed that there would be many more to come. Perhaps Lee Wilkinson said it best when he said,

'Happiness..... is time spent with a friend and looking forward to sharing time with them Again.'

The Last Bash

The Last Bash was held at Brian's Ivy Hall in downtown Lowell. Sean and Jamie provided the entertainment with their hilarious melodies up on the third floor. Those of us who didn't make it to the third floor for one reason or another choose to dance the night away on the second floor. The shuttle service that was provided to us courtesy of the Class of 1993 definitely came in handy by the end of the night as spirits were high and the mood was festive. Brian's brought an end to Senior Week and made us realize that graduation was not a dream anymore but a reality.

Graduation

A celebration... a time for looking back
on lessons learned,
Adventures shared,
bright moments filled
with special meaning...

A farewell...
a time for saying good-bye
to old friends,
to good times you've known...
a time for packing away memories,
treasures for tomorrow...

A beginning ...
a time for looking forward,
a time to set new goals,
to dream new dreams,
to try your wings
and see what lies beyond.

*May you cherish
your yesterdays,
dream your tomorrows,
but live your todays.*

Graduation

Graduation

The University recognizes as Class Valedictorian James R. Gagnon (top left photo) a candidate for the Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering. James was also the recipient of the Trustee's Key, which requires an academic record of 4.0 for all four years of Baccalaureate study at the University. It is difficult to imagine all the countless hours of studying and undying dedication that a feat like this takes to achieve. James is only the fifth person to receive this award in its fifteen year history. Congratulations Jim on accomplishing a feat that most of us can only dream about.

Student Service Medals

Chancellor's medals are awarded upon the recommendation of members of the University community to as many six graduating seniors who have made outstanding contributions to the University. These students have freely given their time for the betterment of the University through their involvement in various activities and organizations. At a University where students struggle to find enough time in the day to balance their schedules, this determination is really appreciated. Hats off to these students for a job well done and their interminable commitment to the University.

Chancellor's

Medals

The three remaining medalists, all from the College of Arts & Sciences are Terri Pastori (upper left photo), John O'Donnell (upper right photo), and Kenneth Northrup (left lower photo). Chances are you recognize at least one, if not all of the six Chancellor's Medal recipients. These people made a difference while they were here at the University and we would just like to recognize them and say "thank you" from the Class of '93.

This page is dedicated to the senior class officers of the Class of 1993. These four students took the time and effort to help the University by making a difference. The senior class officers always seem to go unnoticed here at the University. Hardly anyone realizes that these four individuals literally construct senior week as well as help promote functions on behalf of the class. They are responsible and held partially liable for any mishaps that may occur. The Red Sox game, the Medieval Manor, the Senior Barbeque at The Tent, the Harbor Cruise, the Last Bash, the Senior Ball- all of these events were subsidized by the senior class officers and their fundraisers. None of these events would have been possible without the efforts of Aileen Turnbull, Mark Garipay, Kathleen Bulger, and Marc Lapierre. These four individuals were responsible for the planning, supervision, and ticket sales of these events. When you look back on senior week do not forget those that made it happen:

*Gratitude is the hardest of all emotions
to express;
there is no word
capable of conveying all that one feels.
Until we reach a world where feelings can be adequately expressed in words,
Thank You
will have to do....
Very Sincerely,
The Class of 1993*

Class Officers

to help them
to become extraordinary*

I feel it is important at this time to apologize to those of you who may not have been included in the senior portrait section. The Sojourn Staff made every attempt to accomodate everyone. There were several times that we had a photographer set up on campus to take the senior portraits. We also had numerous advertisements in the Connector which told of the specific dimensions which were required if you chose to go with an outside photographer. Many people sent in photographs that were the wrong size and if there was not a negative it was impossible to resize these photographs. In addition to these problems, there was no editor for the final three months of the year. When I became editor it was very difficult to track down people who had since graduated. These pages are just one way in which we made an effort to include everyone in the senior portrait section. Unfortunately, because of time constraints, we could not gratify everyone. Again my deepest apologizes.

Sincerely Yours,
Christopher J. Felton

Well, it's time to say goodbye to UMass Lowell and continue on with life's journey. We had a great four or five (and in some cases six) year stay here at UMass Lowell, growing along the way and never fully realizing all the changes that had taken place in our lives. I hope all of you carry many great memories with you as you proceed into the next exciting stage in your life.

Congratulations to the graduating Class of 1993 and best of luck in your future endeavors!

Chris Felton
Editor in Chief
Sojourn 1993

This page is dedicated to all of the special friends and relationships that we grew and developed throughout our years here at the University.

It's not too often that you get a chance to tell the people who are important to you how much they have made a difference in your life. These are the people that truly made my experience here at UMass Lowell full of memories that will last forever.

Thank you to Sandra Felton "Mom" who provided me with endless emotional as well as financial support. Without your love and support I would never have made it this far. Leo F. King who has played the role of my surrogate father, for always listening, caring and showing me how to put things in a different perspective.

Thank you to Rick Abbadessa, Tom Bauer, Chris Carter, Colleen Cann, Brian Donegan, K. Dan Hollingsworth, Simon Liu, Bob Miller, Tammy Millette, Pete Murphy, Matthew Nickerson, Jill Pullen, Brian Stymest, Tim Wooster and the Fraters of Tau Kappa Epsilon; for making everyday brighter; for listening; for being there whenever I needed you; for helping me see situations differently; for all the adventures; for the laughs; for the support; for the memories, but most of all for being the best friends anyone could ever ask for. Best of luck to all of you and may we never grow apart.
